After securing the cooperation of the Merchants' Association in its ac-tion, the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce will, at an early date, dispatch a cablegram to Walter F. Dillingham, now in Washington, requesting him to secure all facts regarding the status of Pearl Harbor as a site for the navy drydeck, and to submit his findings to the organization,

This decision was reached at a meeting at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon of the trustees of the Chamber of Commerce, the subject being introduced by President George R. Carter. A recent cable to the Star-Bulleting was to the effect that Secretary of the Navy Daniels intends prevailing upon Congress to construct a $2,500,000 drydock in San Francisco and this fact, as well as numerous other communications, have lead it to be feared locally that the government might abandon the Pearl Harbor site and undertake a similar project in San Francisco. Mr. Carter pointed out that it was the Chamber of Commerce that took the first action toward promotion when the plans of the Pearl Harbor dock were inaugurated, saying that that body had sent out considerable literature and maps to trade organizations all over the United States, setting forth the cen-tral location of Hawaii for such a pro-ject. As a result of this campaign, ed dock met with the !,

"Shall this organization be in favor of that plan? Shall we take some action in the matter? It there has been any influence extended to abandon the site at Pearl Harbor, then the Chamber of Commerce about take steps to prevent it. We were led to believe that we were safe and that anothing would be done on the Pacific Could. It has proposition to account the site after it has spent so much money in bringing the work to its present stage."

The trustees of the chamber admitted in flavored in the fact that Honolulu is soon to have a new federal building. The trustees also favored a proposition whereby the United States will own its embassy limitings.

The matter was taken up regarding a mountally appropriation by the Chamber and Merchants' Association may soon combine, the proposition be placed in the hands of the greater commercial body. The chamber's appropriation stepped last June, and it is understood that the settlement is now receiving a libteral appropriation from the Shippers.
